

Time Based

Questions	Comments
Will the TB elements be part of the Risk Element Change execution?	Execute it immediately. Jake will check further on it with Tommy. Tommy confirmed that we need to implement a check if the Time Based scoring is bound to happen at a interval of 5 days from the Rule Change we dont need to execute it. Run it as normal Rule Change trigger and run it again on the designated next run date.
In case of a new customer onboarding, can the TB rules be skipped for the 1st rating calculation? or how should the scoring function?	No need to score the Time Based elements in case of new account/customer onboarding. We should do the scoring in this scenario. But further discussion required with Tommy to refine on scoring scenarios like for Length of Relationship execution. Need to score all the rules in case of new onboarding/ new acquisition / closure of a relationship
For TB rules, how should we store the driving factor (Account ID) for the Customer score? (Especially in case of aggregation rules)
